Hector: Cat About Town
Notorious Gossip

A coloured man who worked at odd jobs had just completed mowing a lawn, and the lady who employed him came out to settle his bill. "How much do I owe you, Sam?"

"Now, Mrs. Harris, I ain't gwine to set no price."

"Why not?"

"It's this way, Mrs. Harris. I'd a lot rather have the 75 cents which you'll give me, than the 50 cents which I'd charge you."

A mountain man who rarely, if ever, visited a town of any size, drove into Statesville with his son, travelling in a decrepit car. Climbing out of the car on one of the main streets, the elderly man appeared fascinated by the pavement.

He scraped his feet on the hard surface, and turning to his son, remarked: "Well, I don't blame 'em for building a town here. The ground is too hard to plow, anyway."

An inspector, examining a class in religious knowledge, asked the following question of a little girl, intending it for a catch: "What was the difference between Noah's Ark and Joan of Arc?"

He was not a little surprised when the child, answering, said: "Noah's Ark was made of wood and Joan of Arc was made of Orleans."

LONDON PRESS COMMENT

Nanking Outrage

London, Nov. 2.

The attempt on the life of Mr. Wang Ching-wei is given prominence in the morning papers. The diplomatic correspondent of the "Morning Post" says that it is regarded in London as being of considerable significance.

If the motive, as appears probable, was the hostility of the Chinese Nationalists towards the supposedly pro-Japanese tendency of the Government, it may be the prelude to a new period of unrest.

Referring to the rumours that a new encroachment by Japan on Chinese territory is impending, the "Morning Post" says that in the present instance there is no evidence that Japan is planning a new political offensive in North China or intends to advance her troops to the south, but the possibility of such developments cannot be excluded.

The Japanese army chiefs know that the Powers are pre-occupied with other affairs and may consider the moment ripe for consolidating the Japanese position in the northern provinces. The military occupation of them would give Japan control of North China practically down to the Yellow River and create a serious situation for British interests.

In a leading article on the attempt on the life of Mr. Wang Ching-wei the "Daily Telegraph" says that it is a warning of the difficulties under which the Nanking Government is working.

During the last four years Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, with the aid of Mr. Wang Ching-wei and others, has made considerable progress towards the restoration of order and unity in China. The Communist menace, despite the outbreak in the summer, appears to be confined to a comparatively small area, and there has been economic development of some importance.

A bold, calculated outrage by the opponents of Sino-Japanese understanding is "The Times" de-

LLOYD GEORGE AGAIN

Sanctions Strongly Condemned

London, Nov. 1.

"The sanctions proposed by the League of Nations are a mockery of the Covenant," declared Mr. David Lloyd George, former Prime Minister, and leader of a virulent campaign against the National Government, when delivering an election address to-night which was broadcast to the nation.

"Our Ministers," he said, "have gone to the Geneva conferences with a divided purpose and they have been hopelessly outmatched by resolute and astute men with whom they were confronted."

Signor Mussolini and M. Pierre Laval have completely fooled them all round," he asserted.

Mr. Lloyd George affirmed that the Government had failed conspicuously to guard the three foundations upon which the peace of Europe depended: namely, the guaranteeing of international rights, fair dealing to end trade and currency warfare, and the securing of a general reduction of armaments.

The Government, he averred, had delayed again and again until it was too late; and when they looked about to act they hesitated and faltered and weakened.

WARM WELCOME FOR CONGRESSMEN

Shanghai, Nov. 2.

A host of Chinese, American and Filipino officials greeted Vice-President Garner and party of Congressmen and pressmen when they arrived in Shanghai this morning aboard the President Grant, en route to Manila for the Commonwealth inauguration ceremonies.

A marine band played the National Anthem as Mr. Garner stepped ashore. The party is having lunch with the Mayor, Mr. Wu Te-chen, taking tea with Dr. H. H. Kung, Minister of Finance, and dining with Mr. Nelson Johnson, U. S. Ambassador, to-day, and will then embark for Manila via Hong Kong.

TO DEVELOP CHINESE PHYSIQUE

London, Nov. 1.

General Chang Chih-chang, head of the Physical Culture Bureau in Nanking, was entertained in London to-day by a conference of English missionary societies.

General Chang is visiting Europe and America to study physical training systems. He said he aimed at combining the best of the Western and Oriental systems for the physical development of the Chinese.

According to General Chang, Chinese physique is poor compared with that of Westerners, and China needs strong bodies and strong minds in the tasks confronting her.

scripton of the attempt on Mr Wang's life.

The paper says that it is to be hoped that fear of future complications aroused by the Premier's health will be disproved by the event, for Mr. Wang Ching-wei is a statesman of unquestionable sincerity and patriotism. He is an orator and publicist of great talent, whose revolutionary past has not prevented him from becoming a constructive force in the Nanking Government.

JAPANESE VIEWS

Tokyo, Nov. 2.

The consensus of opinion in the Japanese press is that the Nanking tragedy makes the future outlook of the Chinese political situation and the Sino-Japanese relations gloomy.

It is generally thought that the attack is due to discontent with Mr. Wang Ching-wei's pro-Japan policy. His removal, temporarily or, otherwise, from office will necessitate fundamental changes in Nanking, with the strengthening of the so-called pro-Western clique.

The "Nichi-Nichi" comments that it is clear that the anti-Japanese sentiment lurking in Nanking is utterly opposed to Mr. Wang's pro-Japanese policy, and forecasts that China's "future diplomacy" will "become more strongly anti-Japanese." "It is probable that the present Sino-Japanese negotiations will have to be abandoned."

DESERTER OUT FOR REVENGE

Ras Gufza's Family Massacred

Rome, Nov. 1. Ras Gufza, the Ethiopian leader, who deserted to Italy some time ago, has undertaken a punitive expedition against his fellow-countrymen. He and his followers are in a frenzy of grief and rage since they have learned, according to Italian reports, that their women and children and other relatives have been slaughtered wholesale. A native runner brought the news.

This was an overwhelming blow. The tribesmen had already heard that if captured by the Ethiopians they would be killed in the manner reserved for regicides. They would be swathed in linen and coated with wax and honey and then set afire.

Runners brought the news of the massacre on the evening of October 30, and Ras Gufza's men, under the command of Cagras Machebel at once marched to a point 65 miles south of the Italian lines which put them well beyond Makale.

Nothing has been heard from Adigrat, meanwhile, and Ras Gufza is eager to rejoin his second wife there, who is expecting a child and from whom he has heard no word since he went over to the Italians.

It is reported that his stone palace at Makale, built in European style, was sacked by the Ethiopians before the Italian attack, and was used for machine gunners' nests during the fighting around the city.

SPYING FOR ITALY

Harrar, Nov. 1. Ahmed Hassi, a Somali chief whom Emperor Selassie decorated last May, was brought here in chains to-day from Gorahai, with twelve tribesmen, all of whom are accused of spying on behalf of Italy.

The situation at Gorahai is most obscure.

EGYPT AGREES WITH GENEVA

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Geneva, Nov. 1. Among the non-members of the League of Nations, Egypt is the second state that is following United States to reply to the enquiry from the League of Nations concerning the attitude that would be taken up towards sanctions. The answer states "the Egyptian Government has decided in principle to agree to the application of economic financial sanctions in the Italian-Abyssinian conflict, and within scope if possible, will enforce measures determined by the League of Nations."

A FIVE-HOUR PARLEY

Geneva, Nov. 2. At 1 a.m., after a five-hour sitting, the sub-committee representing Britain, France, Rumania, Yugo-Slavia, Spain and Greece, reached an agreement dealing with the case of countries with clearing agreements with Italy which have large balances to their credit, especially Rumania.

The question had been holding up a final agreement for enforcing sanctions. The agreement provides that a date shall be provisionally fixed, probably November 14 or 15 whereon all purchases from Italy shall cease. Outstanding debts will be specially considered by the Committee of Mutual Support.

WANG CHING WEI BETTER

Suspects Closely Examined

Nanking, Nov. 2. After careful examination of the would-be assassin, Sun Ming-hsun, who wounded Mr. Wang Ching-wei seriously yesterday and was himself shot down by guards, police headquarters this morning issued an official bulletin stating that the attempt on the life of the man who is China's virtual Prime Minister was a well-organised plot of Chinese Communists. Sun was a former sergeant of the 19th Route Army, they said, which backed the abortive Fukien revolt more than a year ago.

Unless complications develop within the next twenty-four hours, Mr. Wang Ching-wei has an even chance of recovering, declared an official who left his bedside at 12.30 a.m. to-day.

He said the Minister was sleeping peacefully.

Meanwhile, doctors are trying hard to save the life of the gunman, Sun, whom police are anxious to question further. Mingled with the general gloom over Mr. Wang's misfortune was the relief at the news that Mr. Kwan Nai-kwang and Mr. Chang Chi were uninjured. The only other casualty was a janitor who was wounded in the leg by a stray bullet. He was taken to hospital and is out of danger.

GIRL SUSPECT

Following the gruelling examination of eight men, arrested as suspects after the shooting, authorities are convinced that the outrage is the outcome of a Communist plot.

It is also learned that a girl suspect has been arrested. She is a reporter for the Chiang Hua News Agency and is young and pretty and speaks fluent Russian. She is a former member of the Communist party but recently pledged her loyalty to the Kuomintang.

Another suspect is reported to have been arrested at Hsiakwan, while impersonating a plainclothes officer from police headquarters.

ASSAILANT DEAD

Nanking, Nov. 2. The would-be assassin of Mr. Wang Ching-wei, Sun Feng-min, succumbed to his injuries at 3.45 p.m. to-day. An inquest was subsequently held, at which the Coroner returned a verdict that the deceased had died of bullet wounds.

The body was turned over to the police for burial.

ELECTION FIGHTS IN BRITAIN

London, Nov. 1. National Government candidates have 347 straight fights with independents, according to present indications, although there may be other candidates in the field at the last minute.

There will be 139 three-cornered fights and eight four-cornered contests. Twenty-two candidates will be unopposed and 33 seats altogether are not being contested by National Government candidates.

The first election nomination was lodged at Oxford University where the candidates are Lord Cecil, Unionist, Mr. C. R. Cruikshank, Conservative, Professor J. L. Stocks, Labour, Mr. A. P. Herbert, the well-known author, Independent Nationalist.

There are two seats at Oxford and the previous members of Parliament were Lord Hugh Cecil and Sir Charles Oman, Conservative.

PEACE EFFORTS BY STATESMEN

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Geneva, Nov. 1.

Reports of the eagerly awaited English and French deliberations between Sir Samuel Hoare and M. Laval on Friday, state that the result is very satisfactory. The two Governments agreed that the sanctions conference on Saturday, will definitely fix a date for the commencement of the economic sanctions. Either Sir Samuel Hoare or M. Laval will then address the assembly, putting on record that "at the moment no basis for further negotiations exists, but that the League of Nations will assemble again at Geneva immediately the concrete proposal are made."

From authoritative British quarters it is denied that any proposals had been drawn up on the question clearing the agreements between Italy and the various other states continued on Friday afternoon before the Committee of 18, but as there were differences in the view points of the Little Entente, the Balkan Union and Switzerland on one side and Franco-British on the other, proved irreconcilable; Titulescu undertook to discuss the matter further with the British and French delegations and submit new proposals to the Committee of 18 on Saturday.

ITALIAN MEASURES TO THWART SANCTIONS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Rome, Nov. 1.

Signor Mussolini received in the Palazzo Venezia, the technical committee of the Industrial Federation, chaired by Senator Volpi, and set forth principles that would be followed so as to meet effectively, sanctions that are shortly to be applied.

Senator Volpi submitted a report about the steps which had already been taken by the committee for a more useful employment of raw stuffs obtainable in Italy itself, moreover, the possibilities of a rational exploitation of all the possibilities and effective regulation of raw stuff buying, and control of the production. Senator Volpi also outlined a plan of work for the different branches of industry during the next few months. Members of the committee then discussed measures that would have to be adopted to carry out Volpi's plan. Mussolini took note of these proposals and laid down principles on which the committee would continue its labours.

FEAR NOT THOSE WHO KILL THE BODY

Bishop Hall Speaks On Creative Healing

Jesus said "Fear not those who kill the body and have nothing else that they can do." Jesus was at once concerned about men's bodies and clear that the body was not the last word. He might say to us to-day "Take no account of those who kill the body and have nothing else that they can do." And does not public opinion endorse that attitude? The Doctors who succeed are those who leave their patients better in spirit as well as better in body. And this is true of success whether it is in a wide range of popularity and high fees or in that deeper success of the General Practitioner who is the friend and confidant of all the families in the neighbourhood. To do more than heal the body is in fact the unwritten law of the medical profession. Its tradition is not one of having alone, but of creative healing. Britain is proud of her soldiers, her soldiers, her police and her legal traditions but in the inmost place of her heart the family doctor probably holds the highest place. It has been said "The link that binds the British Isles together is the Scottish or Irish practitioner who is always to be found at the bedside of the sick Englishman."

BODY AND SPIRIT

"Count not those who heal the body and have nothing else that they can do." In the end it is not true that anything else is done, more physical healing will not even keep the patient healthy. The patient's attitude towards life, towards his disease, towards God will be of tremendous importance for the health of his body. It is a known fact that persons live longer than any other profession. This may be due to the large number of country vicarages to which the man of fifty can go from a busy town parish. It may be due to the fact that the person of fifty or sixty has not to face that cruel fate of retirement which seems so often to hasten a man's end. But may it not also be due to the fact that there is likely to be a bigger proportion of men of genuine faith among the clergy than in any other profession. I am not saying that all clergy are men of faith, for faith is not better in an ideal or a correct theological definition but a profound attitude to life itself.

The facts are irresistible that health of body depends partly on health of spirit that a doctor is a good doctor in proportion as he is more than a body healer. The personality of the doctor matters to him and to his patients, as much as his professional ability.

THE GREAT HEALER

We meet together this morning in the name of Christ. In the New Testament Christ is more often to be found in the doctor's place healing the sick than in the parson's place taking from the pulpit. It is a great privilege to be a doctor and to continue the healing work which mattered so much to Our Lord Jesus Christ. If it mattered to Him, it matters to God. The Christian faith is a body and soul faith. It does not deny the reality of the body or the importance of its needs. Healing work is not judged by God by the more than healing that you do. The actual healing of the body is in itself God's work.

There is another way in which you as doctors come very near Jesus Christ. Your contact with men is very real. Before the mystery of birth and death and in the anxiety that attends on sickness the shams and defences of a man's soul come down. A doctor sets more of the naked souls of men than any other profession. You deal with the fundamental simplicities of human nature, for man is at heart profoundly simple. The defences that attend his common life may be complicated and elaborate, but by the sick bed they disappear. For all these reasons I would urge upon you this morning in the name of Jesus Christ that the honesty of your own soul and the cleanness of your own mind, your own essential purity of heart matters. It matters to God. It matters to your patients. It matters to you. It matters to your patients because they were made by God for Himself and their contact with you in those moments when all their defences are down may be decisive in leading them nearer to God or farther from Him. It matters to you because the doctor is always in a sense the patient. He too at heart has the same simple hopes and tears and the deep interest in his patients. There is in the doctor the same human need as in all his patients.

"SMOKE AND FIRE"

You doctors study more psychology than we do. The study of psychology may have raised doubts in your minds as to the reality of our experience of God. To say that Jesus is by your side in every consultation may seem to you a fond imagining. It may be a fond imagining but psychology alone cannot prove it to be so. Psychology alone cannot say whether there is fire behind the smoke which it observes. By its very nature it must limit its observations to the smoke, that is, to the progress in the mind. It takes the study of history and of life itself and an unbiased reference to the whole of experience to decide whether or not there is a reality behind the mental process. You deal with the fundamental simplicities of human life. Our Christian faith is that God Himself is fundamental simple. Jesus the simple carpenter of Nazareth with His vigour, His vitality and His naturalness is, we believe, the companion of your way. You need have no fear that what you do or say will harm another person if you let Jesus, the Healer of Souls, deal with your own needs as honestly as you endeavour to help others.

CREATIVE HEALING

That is how your work can be increasingly creative healing. It is by co-operation with the Creator Spirit in every contact with the human spirit that you can help them. But remember this creation comes from the touch of real upon real. You cannot say to a patient anything creative unless it is yourself in words. I read the other day that a man's ideal is the highest thing about him. I do not believe this to be true. Nothing can be higher than a man's actions. Ideals which are not expressed in actions are valueless. "Not everyone," said Jesus, "that saith unto me Lord, Lord shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven but he that doeth the Will of God." I am sure you will understand that I am not, asking for anything sanctimonious. I am asking for a fearlessness. I am asking that you will not be afraid to let what is most real in your own life reach the naked human soul in your patient. He comes to you in physical need, but again and again his physical need is an open door to something much deeper. It is by reaching this something more than physical in his need that you can best deal with the physical. As you have prepared yourself by careful study and by keeping diligently in contact with the daily experience of the whole medical profession to be fit to handle physical need, so I ask for the same care, the same thoroughness in keeping your own inmost spirit honest and true and clean. The sick soul knows in ways which it cannot put into words the genuineness of those about it. Your whole contact with your patient is a contact of real on real. It is what you are in your inmost being that is your value as a doctor.

"LEARNING FROM EACH OTHER"

Parsons and doctors share the two sides of the work of Christ. I believe we have much to learn from each other. I think the weakness of the Ministry of the Church of England is that it is too amateur, too untidy. But that very untidiness of your Ministry is, I know, its value. "Padre" or "Parson" stands for the amateur. "Priest" for the professionals. There is directness of approach from man to man between the parson or padre and his fellow-men. Because we are so untrained what we are matters. We cannot fall back as you can do on professional training because we have not got it.

Perhaps you are saying to me "Physician heal thyself." These are words you are saying. The real you you are still keeping back from us. This then is the heart of what lies behind the things I have been saying. Early this year I gave as the title of an address I was to give some months later

AIR MINISTRY OF 1,000 ROOMS

Symbol Of German Policy

(Special Air Mail Service)

Berlin, Oct. 15.
The centre of Berlin was closed to traffic this afternoon to enable General Göring, Prime Minister of Prussia and German Air Minister, to give a treat to the 5,000 workmen who have built his huge Air Ministry at the junction of the Wilhelmstrasse. In a few days' time General Göring and his staff will move into the building, which has over 1,000 rooms, and has cost an immense sum of money.

In his speech to the workers this afternoon General Göring paid a glowing tribute to Chancellor Hitler, whose "indomitable will," he said, was now shaping the German nation. The new Air Ministry, he went on, reflected the spirit of discipline of the German people, and he prayed that the building would withstand storms to come just as the German people would resist divisions that might lead to their overthrow.

General Göring added that when he lay awake at night in his residence the sound of the hammers at work on the new Ministry was "as music to my ears."

"Let the peace of Christ regulate your lives." Before the time came to give the address something had happened to me which enabled me to speak out of a richer and deeper experience of that regulative peace. By the help of some who through the means of the Oxford Group have themselves found the Peace of God I learnt to leave my life and its business much more to Him. I do not pretend that I have entered into a cloudless summer but I can say this and I thank God for it that the days on which I let go my own hold and know not only in theory but in conduct that God is God and my life is in His keeping, on those days work goes more peacefully, more creatively, more effectively. I ask you therefore, not because it is the right thing for a parson to say, but because I have learnt the lesson again in my own experience, I ask each one of you to commit your life, your work, your problems day by day to the Living God. Do that without reserve and without fear and you will find pulsing through your life and your work the Creative Power of God Himself and you will know in a way which brooks no denial that there is no smoke without fire. That if there were not God there would not be religion and that the heart of God is Jesus Christ, the Undying Fire which can make all men alive.

CONSERVATIVES GAINING

London, Nov. 2.
A pronounced swing in favour of Conservatives against Labour is shown in the results so far announced in the municipal elections held in over 360 cities, towns and boroughs in England and Wales (excluding London) yesterday.

The final state of the parties at midnight, when a hundred results were at hand, shows that the Conservatives had secured 56 gains and 18 losses, the Liberals 10 gains and 12 losses, Labour 38 gains and 60 losses, and Independents 20 gains and 28 losses.

CHINESE PROFESSOR IN GERMANY

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, Nov. 2.

The Chinese Professor Te Chen, chief of the Sociology Department of the National Tsing Hua University at Peking, who is at present travelling for the Chinese Government on a mission of study in a number of the leading countries of the world, paid a visit to the National Socialist Racial Political Office to inform himself at an authoritative source about the measures taken by the new regime in Germany to influence the future population movements of the nation.

In the course of a discussion that took place it was established that in principle identity exists between the present Germany and the great nations of the Far East in recognition of the worth of race, so that on a basis of mutual respect an exchange of cultural and economic values is by all means possible and worthy of promotion.

6 MONTHS' PREPARATION

Preparation for a period of six months, during which he delved into more than 100 books and spent several weeks making screen tests, preceded the start of George Arliss in the title role of Darryl Zanuck's 20th Century Pictures dramatic spectacle, "Cardinal Richelieu," showing at the King's Theatre to-day.

The cast supporting Arliss reads like a Hollywood Blue Book. Like the star's previous success, "The House of Rothschild," "Cardinal Richelieu" centres its drama around a great historic controversy, depicting the stormy times of King Louis XIII of France when Church and State were contending for power and the great political prelate, Richelieu, was the real power behind the throne. Based on a play by Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton, the screen play is credited to Maude Howell and the adaptation to Cameron Rogers, while W. P. Lipscomb wrote the dialogue. As young lovers, Maureen O'Sullivan and Cesar Romero, the screen's latest romantic sensation, enact a love drama around which the larger drama of political intrigue swirls and rages.

BREWSTER'S MILLIONS

"Brewster's Millions," Jack Buchanan's latest picture, which comes to the King's Theatre on Wednesday should appeal strongly to the harassed business man who spends his days trying to make enough money to keep the wolf from the door and his nights dreaming that his firm has declared a dividend of a hundred per cent.

The plot of "Brewster's Millions," which ran for a year on the West End stage before the war, concerns the difficulties of a young man who in order to inherit a fortune of six million has to spend half a million in six months.

BECKY SHARP IS SHARP

Becky Sharp, one of literary history's most intriguing, designing, resourceful adventuresses, cracked up on the emotion that most women cherish most—love. Becky was ambitious, of humble birth, she desired social recognition more than anything else in the world. To her sorrow she was in love with a handsome, penniless, profligate, young officer, the son of a nobleman. She married him. He was disinherited by his wealthy, maiden aunt. The next day her husband's father offered her his hand, which would have made her a lady and bridged the social gap for her in one stride. Love had double-crossed her. Had she only waited! No need to cry, however, over split milk. She set herself to the roundabout way to society and riches. Her husband's pedigree privileged her to meet the men of quality if not the women. She met and conquered them. One was the Marquis of Steyne. This old roue she coaxed, with veiled promises, into having her presented at court. Her social triumph was complete, but not her financial. When the Marquis demanded payment for his loans, love for her husband caused her to default. The result was an expose that ruined both her and husband. From Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," "Becky Sharp" now thrills and delights, audiences at the Queen's Theatre.

This is not nearly so easy as it sounds, for it means getting rid of the stuff at the rate of £150 an hour for twenty-four hours a day, and one of the methods adopted by the compulsory spend-thrift is to establish a business with an enormous and greatly overpaid staff for the sole purpose of spending money as quickly as possible.

On reflection it is difficult to say what will be the Tired Business Man's reaction to all this. If he doesn't laugh his head off he will probably die of heart failure.

Cardinal Richelieu

A magnificent spectacle and very fine entertainment, Cardinal Richelieu at the King's Theatre justifies in every respect the remark passed by one of the most competent of local theatre critics that this was the finest picture he had ever seen in Hong Kong. One has become accustomed to associating George Arliss with heavy dramatic roles and in this one he surpasses anything he has hitherto done.

The action revolves about the seventeenth century court of Louis and shows France absolutely in its worst with the intrigue that was prevalent about this time. Through it all, runs Richelieu's passionate love of Country which comes before everything, the King, the people and even his immediate chief, the Pope.

Maureen O'Sullivan and Cesar Romero are the stellar leads and provide just that bit of lightness to a picture that would otherwise have been rather too heavy.

In addition to those already mentioned, special note must be made of the fine acting of Edward Arnold as the King, Francis Lister and Douglas Dumbrille.

"RED HOT TIRES"

That automobile racers have real eye problems was learned by Lyle Talbot during the filming of the first National picture, "Red Hot Tires," which is scheduled to be screened at the Queen's Theatre soon.

In the film, thrilling races take place at the American Legion Ascot Speedway where the air is filled with dust. Racing drivers, Talbot was instructed, can wipe their goggles clean at only one section of the track during the race. That is on the straightaway. To take a hand off the wheel of a speeding car during a fast turn is to court destruction. Even though goggles become thoroughly blurred and dirty, they remain that way, until the driver reaches the straightaway.

Talbot was given these instructions by an expert driver as he has the role of an auto-driver in the film, which is a stirring dramatic of daredevil driving. The cast includes besides Talbot, Mary Astor, Roscoe Karns, Frankie Darro, Gavin Gordon and Mary Tree D. Ross Lederman directed.

BRIDE FOR MONSTER

Did you ever see a full grown woman brought to life?

All the astounding details of such a miraculous accomplishment were seen at Universal studios recently for the benefit of the cameras, with the infusing of life into the fantastic form of a woman built up from parts of dead bodies, attached to a bleached skeleton stolen from an underground burial crypt. The feat took place in a great stone laboratory filled with advanced electrical appliances, and to the accompaniment of spurring flames, showers of sparks and exploding clouds of white smoke, while outside a terrific thunder storm raged and crashed.

These scenes now form a part of the strange Universal drama, "The Bride of Frankenstein," starring Karloff as "the Monster," and depicting the creating of a mate for the Monster, himself previously "manufactured" by half-mad scientists in exactly the same manner. The role of the "Female Monster" was played by the noted English actress, Elsa Lancaster,

"MOST DEMOCRATIC" LORD PROVOST

Corporation Honours Sir Alexander B. Swan

PRESENTED WITH PORTRAIT AT CIVIC LUNCHEON

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 15. Sir Alexander B. Swan, who concludes his term as Lord Provost of Glasgow in November, and Lady Swan were entertained at luncheon by the Corporation in the City Chambers yesterday, when two portraits of him (painted by James Gunn) were unveiled by Treasurer P. J. Dolan. A civic reception was held in the City Chambers in the evening.

One of the paintings, which shows the Lord Provost in lounge suit seated at a desk in his room at the City Chambers, was presented to Sir Alexander, and the other, portraying him in full official robes and uniform, was presented to the Art Galleries for inclusion in the municipal art collection.

There was a representative attendance, numbering close on 300 persons, at the luncheon. Bailie Kenneth Muir-Simpson, the Senior Magistrate, presided, and with him at the top table were:—

"The Lord Provost and Lady Swan, the Sheriff Principal (Mr J. S. Mercer, K.C.), Sir Daniel M. Stevenson, Bt.; Sir Thomas Dunlop, Bt. and Lady Dunlop; Sir David and Lady Mason, Sir Thomas Kelly and Mrs. McCreggie, Sir Andrew and Lady Pettigrew, Sir Robert and Lady Wilson, Sir Robert Bruce, Professor William Fulton, Mrs. Muir-Simpson, Miss Swan, Bailie James Gray, Treasurer P. J. Dolan and Mrs. Dolan, the Town Clerk (Mr. David Stenhouse) and Mrs. Stenhouse, Mr. and Mrs. James Gunn, ex-Treasurer R. Laing and Mrs. Laing, Councillor Kate Beutson, and Mr. W. F. Robertson.

MOST POPULAR LORD PROVOST

Treasurer Dolan said that he was delighted to be the spokesman of the Corporation in paying tribute to one of the most popular, best beloved, and democratic Lord Provosts Glasgow had had for many years. He might disagree with his politics, but Sir Alexander had that kind of personality and temperament that overshadowed politics and made fellowship the keynote of life. It was only one with those special qualities who could have conducted the office of Lord Provost in the past three years with the same success.

He was the first Lord Provost to see the administration of his first and her makeup in the part is hardly less grotesque than that of the Monster himself.

"Well," said Karloff philosophically after the scenes were finished, "the proper amount of sparking has brought more than one woman to life."

"The Bride of Frankenstein," directed by James Whale, is now playing on the screen of the Star Theatre, and the cast appearing in support of Karloff includes Colin Clive, Valerie Hobson, O. P. Heggie, Ernest Thesiger, Una O'Connor, Dwight Frye, Clive and many others. This hair-raising picture was produced by Carl Laemmle, Jr.

year replaced in the second and third year of his office by another administration. If in 1932 they had been able to foresee the happenings of the next three years they could not have made a better choice of Lord Provost than they did.

The ceremony that day was a departure in some respects from similar ceremonies of the past. In the past it was always customary to pay this tribute to the Lord Provost after his civic death. He was one of those who believed that a man should be honoured during his life, and in this case during his term of office.

Lord Provost Swan had been a magnificent and inspired leader, and during a time of unexampled distress he had never lost faith and hope in his city. He had courage and enterprise to preach optimism to the pessimists and make them feel that theirs was not only the second city in the Empire but the first city for courage, fortitude, and endurance in times of stress.

TO CONTINUE EFFORTS

For that reason he felt that the honouring of Sir Alexander Swan should not be postponed until he had retired, when people were so keen in making friends with the new Lord Provost that they were apt to forget about the old.

Treasurer Dolan went on to say that afternoon he felt that not only was he expressing the unanimous feeling of the Corporation but the general good will of the whole community. He was speaking for the citizens of Glasgow when he expressed to Sir Alexander Swan gratitude for the service he had given to the city during the last three years and good wishes for his future.

"I suggest that Sir Alexander Swan should now be asked to continue his efforts to promote the trade and industry of Clydeside by sending him on a long journey into every part of the British Commonwealth in order to open up new trade routes." (Applause.)

There was no more fitting person than Sir Alexander to carry out such a task.

The Lord Provost could not have performed his magnificent work on behalf of the city had it not been for the splendid assistance given him by Lady Swan. Sir Alexander and Lady Swan had been a great team, and no one in the Corporation could say that they had changed in any way after becoming Lord and Lady Provost.

SCOTTISH ARTIST

He had two portraits to hand over. One would add to the artistic wealth of the Corporation and the other was for Sir Alexander and Lady Swan. He preferred the second portrait. The first showed the Lord Provost in all his military glory and majesty, while the second showed the man whom everyone loved.

Both pictures had been painted by a Scottish artist. In this matter the Lord Provost had carried out his code by selecting a Scotish artist. That was a wise choice, particularly when they had Scottish artists as good as foreign. Mr. James Gunn had carried out his commission well.

The Lord Provost, in his reply, said he recognised that he had been paid a very signal honour. "I could not live," he declared amid laughter. "With that one in red and ermine. I could not keep up that standard all the time, and I thought I should have one painted just as a mere man sitting in the Lord Provost's room, the room I shall remember so well for the very many happy occasions and meetings I have been privileged to have in it."

From the day he appeared as a candidate in Exchange Ward he had received nothing but kindness from the people of Glasgow. Looking back, he wondered what they had to quarrel about between 1923-1929. The new Act which was brought into being in 1929 gave them two troublesome subjects to deal with—namely, the administration of public assistance and the administration of education.

TWO THORNY SUBJECTS

These were two thorny subjects which had "livened" the meeting of the Corporation, and he thought it was well that it should have been so. They would never get any where as an administration unless they had a strong opposition. The stronger the opposition they had in a body such as theirs the better would be the administration in the end. They would find that their difficulties would be thrashed out, and they would come, perhaps, not to an extreme finding on any one subject, but to a reasonable and fair finding to all members and the community generally.

"I am particularly glad to think that the cloud of depression is not so heavy over the city as it was when I entered office; that the cloud may be lifting and will continue to lift; that the greyness of it will fade away and that we shall see the sun shine through again on our city."

"May Glasgow," he concluded, "continue its good work, and may the Corporation continue to give its people further advantages. There is no comparison between the advantages given to the citizens to-day and those given 30 or 40 years ago. May Glasgow continue to flourish and be given the work for which its men and women are so well fitted. May the city and the homes of the people be bright, and may these homes carry to the children the happiness of which we dream." (Loud applause.)

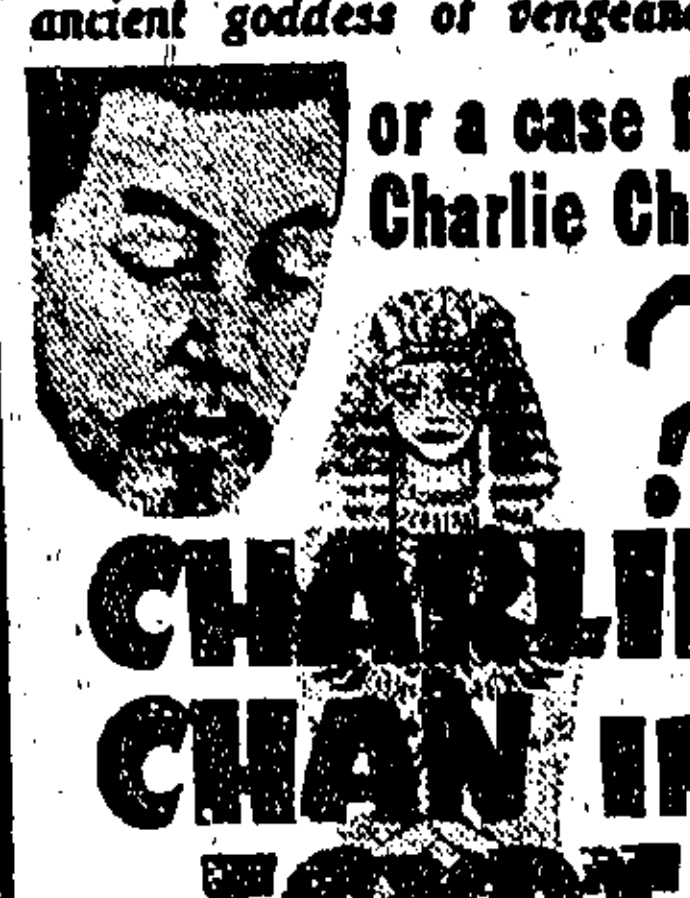

HIGH SCHOOL BOY
Ex-Treasurer Robert Laing formally presented the portrait of the Lord Provost to the Art Galleries Committee, and Mrs. Kate Beaton, sub-convenor of the committee, returned thanks for the gift.

Bailie James Gray, moving a vote of thanks to the artist, said that Mr. James Gunn was a Glasgow High School boy and had been trained in the Glasgow School of Art. He had been given a more difficult task than usual. Formerly there had been only one portrait of the Lord Provost and a replica. On this occasion there were two different portraits, each calling for different treatment. It was a handsome tribute to the skill of Mr. James Gunn that he had painted those two admirable portraits. (Applause.)

Mr. Gunn, in reply, said that in this revealing process of painting he came to know just why Sir Alexander Swan was numbered among the greatest and best-loved

LONDON WOMAN'S QUADRUPLETS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 15. Quadruplets—all boys—were born at the Royal Free Hospital, on Saturday night, to Mrs. Victoria Harmsworth, the 34 years old wife of a metal worker, of Stoke Newington. The mother's condition was stated afterwards to be satisfactory, and the babies were described by an official of the hospital as being of "a fair size."

The babies were born at 10.23, 10.53, 11.7 and 11.17 p.m. They were immediately wrapped in cotton wool and put in electric cradles which maintain an even temperature. Yesterday they were placed on the scales, and the first weighed 3lb. 7oz., the second 2lb. 14oz., the third 3lb. 8oz., and the fourth 3lb. 13oz.—a total of 12lb. 14oz. "So far as is possible to judge at present," said an official at the hospital, "the mother and the children are all likely to continue to flourish."

The birth of the quadruplets was superintended by Dr. Amy Fleming, Professor of Obstetrics at the hospital, and assisting her was Dr. Constantine, with two sisters and three staff nurses.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmsworth have three other children, all girls, aged six, four, and two years. Mrs. Harmsworth is herself a twin. She formerly believed in the old superstition that a mother who was a twin could not give birth to twins or more.

The Town Clerk proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman.

Helping Hand

A very polite Spaniard, who was on a visit to England, was asked by a London hostess to support a function she was arranging in aid of the funds of the R.S.P.C.A. "Certainly, madam," he replied. "I will do all that I can now, and when I get back to Spain I will organize a bull-fight, and send you the proceeds."

NEW "RASPUTIN" FILM LIBEL ACTION

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 15

Another action concerning the film "Rasputin" has been initiated in the High Court. Prince Jacob Chegodieff has issued a writ claiming damages for alleged libel against Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who made the film.

He contends that his character has been defamed in the film. The Prince alleges that in the film one "Chegodieff" is shown as the murderer of Rasputin. In fact, he says, he never met the "Holy Monk."

The name of Prince Chegodieff was often mentioned during the hearing of the case brought in the High Court in March, 1934, by Princess Irina Alexandrovna Youssouloff. She was awarded £25,000 damages for libel in the film.

An appeal by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer failed, and in August last year it was announced that all libel litigation in connection with the film had been disposed of, so far as Princess Youssouloff was concerned, by agreement between her and the film company.

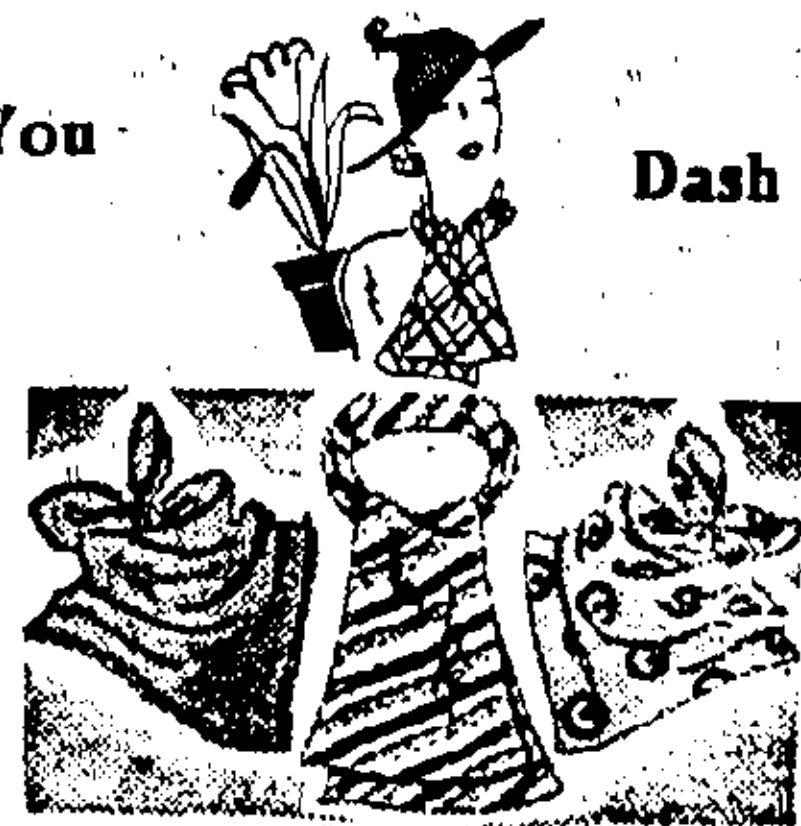

Prince Chegodieff's action will probably come on for trial in the King's Bench Division early next year.

THE MILWAUKEE ROAD

GOOD RIDING AT GYMKHANA

Large Crowd To Watch Events

Some splendid horsemanship was witnessed yesterday afternoon at the Hong Kong Polo Club, during a gymkhana meeting which attracted a large crowd of spectators. Lady Southern, who later distributed the prizes at the conclusion of the events, was an interested spectator. There were eight events on the programme, which included tent-pegging, handy hunter competition and bare back wrestling. The last mentioned event caused a great deal of amusement, two teams of four riders taking part. In order to distinguish between the competitors, one side took the field without any shirts on. All were made to ride bareback and the contest took place in a confined area. "The Rest" comprising of Mr. J. Butcher, Lt. E. G. Parker, Jarvis, L. Johnson, and Mr. J. Felden defeated the Royal Artillery.

THE RESULTS

Mr. J. Parrish carried off the honours, being successful in three events. Mrs. D. C. Wilson rode well to win the Jumping Contest for China ponies.

Tent Pegging: 1. Lieut. G. Henriques (The Quail) 13 points; 2. Sgt. R. B. Cuff (The Dynamo) 11 points.

Ladies Bending Race (Open): 1. Mrs. G. B. Portman.

Men's Bending Race: 1. H. C. Macnamara; 2. Lt. R. de B. Pritchard.

Ladies Football and Polo Stick Race: 1. Miss Barbara Lord; 2. Mrs. A. J. Ropes.

Handy Hunter Competition: 1. J. Parrish (Kash Kar); 2. F. P. R. James (Valley Hall).

Musical Chairs: 1. J. Parrish (Kash Kar); 2. Mrs. D. W. Persse.

Jumping—China ponies: 1. Mrs. D. C. Wilson (Golden Star); 2. Mrs. Colhart (Cloudy Eve); 3. Lt. A. J. Ropes, R.A. (Glenshee).

Jumping—Australian ponies: 1. J. Parrish (Kash Kar); 2. Lieut. Comm. H. Alexander, R.N. (Black Magic); 3. Mrs. D. C. Wilson (The Orphan).

Polo Scoring: Messrs J. Butcher and D. L. Newbiggin.

Bare Back Wrestling: Winners, J. Butcher, Lt. E. C. Parker, Jarvis, Lt. J. R. Johnson, and A. Felden.

CUPS PRESENTED

Opportunity was also taken to distribute the cups won for various competitions held during the season, which resulted as under: Royal Navy Cup, won by the Staff (Major Shannon, Lt. Gough, Lt. Col. Wilkinson and Major Drepann); Stubbs Cup, won by "Artillery House" Lt. Ropes, Lt. Baker-Carr, Lt. Metcalfe, and Lt. Johnson; K.O.Y.L.I. Cup, won by the Royal Artillery.

RUGBY

Club Defeats Navy

One of the best Rugby displays was on view on Saturday afternoon when the Club 1st XV defeated the Royal Navy by 21 points to 9.

Pear opened the scoring as the result of a breakaway, but Robertson failed to add the points. Not long after McGillchrist received from just over the halfway line and in a brilliant corkscrew run scored slightly wide for Robertson to add the points.

The Navy, however, retaliated soon after when St. Clair Ford broke away to send Benson over in the far corner, the latter failing to add to his effort.

In the second half, the Club were penalised for feet-up in their own 25 and Benson landed an excellent penalty goal from an oblique angle.

Lt. Col. H. C. Harrison refereed.

FUSILIERS v. CIVILIANS

A game of mixed chances in which the Fusiliers XV lost to the Club "A" XV featured the other rugby match on Saturday when the Civilian Club won, by 8 points to 3.

Fusilier Eagle opened the scoring for the Fusiliers, scoring wide of the posts, but Riggs equalised soon after with a penalty goal.

In the second half, from a scrum on the Fusilier 25-yard line, Black "sold the dummy", and scrambled over the line, with two men hanging on to him. Riggs added the points.

YACHTING

J.R.L. Stanton Wins "A" Class Race

Joss, sailed by Mr. J. R.L. Stanton, won the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club's "A" Class race, on Saturday when she beat Gull (Mr. B. Naess) by 28 seconds over a 9.8 miles course.

In the "G" Class event Sirius (Mr. W. B. Cooper) proved an easy winner, while Stella (Major B. E. C. Dixon) finished ahead of Widgion (Col. Bilderbeck) in the "I" and "Y" Classes.

Colleen (Capt. N. Sydnall) beating Diana (Mr. P. Ramus) for first place.

MAMAK HOCKEY

Victory For C.B.A.
By Two Goals

The Central British Association went one step nearer to championship honours, when they defeated the United Hockey Club in a rather one-sided encounter by 2 goals to nil in a Mamak Tournament game, which was played at King's Park yesterday.

At half-time there had been no scoring, mainly due to the splendid work between the sticks of the United custodian. Some fifteen minutes from the end, T. Whitley netted for the Association, followed shortly afterwards by G. Fowler who beat the goalie after he had made a splendid solo run through the defence.

POLICE WIN

The Indian Police defeated the Nomads by two goals to one, after having played in their own half for the most part of the game on the Police Training School ground yesterday. The Reed brothers were outstanding for the losers, while Karnal Singh, right back for the Indians, played a sterling game. At half-time the score was two goals to nil in favour of the

TREASURES OF BODLEIAN

How A Famous Ms. Reached Oxford

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 15.

The smuggling of a Plato MS. out of a Greek monastery inside a basket of loaves about a century ago is described in a footnote to a manuscript, shown in an exhibition of classical treasures which opens at the Bodleian to-morrow to mark the bimillenary of Horace. The exhibition will continue until Dec. 21.

The MS., the "Bodleian" or "Clarkian MS. (B)" of Plato, was brought by Dr. Edward Daniel Clarke from the monastery of St. John, which stands on the highest point of the mountainous island of Patmos.

The library of the monastery was in chaos, says the footnote. The best positions were occupied by the newest and best-bound books. A considerable number of old parchments were heaped in disorder on the floor, and it was evident that they had been condemned to any purpose for which parchment might be required.

ABBOT UNABLE TO READ

"When we asked the Superior what they were," the footnote continues, "he replied, turning up his nose with an expression of indifference and contempt, 'Manuscripts. Neither he nor the Bursar could read.'

In this heap Dr. Clarke found the Plato and the other MS. A bargain was made with the help of an Englishman in the Turkish service, but only two small volumes could be carried off at the time, as the Captain Pasha would have severely taxed the monastery had there been any suspicion of money passing.

"The day appointed for the delivery of the books went by in much anxiety, for the honour of the Calovers (modern Greek word for monks-Kalogerie, "Good old men"), was scarcely to be depended on. At last a monk appeared with a huge basket of loaves, and, coming on board, desired the travellers, with a significant wink, to count the loaves to see if they were all right.

"The precious manuscripts were at the bottom of the basket, and were immediately concealed. Then, making a great parade of the loaves, Dr. Clarke and his friends dismissed the messenger with a handsome douceur."

SEPARATION LAW

Better Provision Aimed For

The draft of an Ordinance to make better provision in this Colony for the granting by magistrates of separation and maintenance orders is gazetted.

The object of this Ordinance is to incorporate in the local law relating to husband and wife the amendments effected in England by the Married Women (Maintenance) Act, 1920, the Summary Jurisdiction (Separation and Maintenance) Act, 1925, and section 5 of the Licensing Act, 1902, (relating to habitual drunkards.)

The definition of "married woman" in Section 2 of this Ordinance makes it clear that the Ordinance is intended to apply primarily to the parties to a marriage as defined in the Divorce Ordinance, 1932, but the provisions of section 2 of Ordinance No. 10 of 1905 extending the operation of that Ordinance to Chinese and other customary-marriages "duly celebrated according to the personal law and religion of the parties" have been retained for the benefit of the large non-European population of this Colony.

The racial distinction between Asiatics and others contained in section 2 of Ordinance No. 10 of 1905 has however been abolished, except as regards a Chinese first (or kit fat) marriage, or a marriage between a Chinese widower and his second (or tin fong) spouse, where it is necessary to define the two recognised forms of Chinese customary marriage.

Police men, but in the second half R. J. Reed reduced the deficit for the Nomads but not until six successive corners had been forced.

WEDDING BELLS

Gutierrez—da Cruz

A pretty wedding took place at the Rosary Church, Kowloon, yesterday afternoon; the contracting parties being Mr. Joaquim Jeronimo Gutierrez and Miss Maria Conceicao da Cruz.

The bride looked charming in a dress of white satin, trimmed with pearl clasp and a train veil with orange blossom. The bridesmaid was Miss Alicia Maria Gutierrez, sister of the bridegroom. Mr. S. A. P. Jorge discharged the duty of best man, while the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. V. A. da Cruz.

After the ceremony at the church a reception was held at No. 8 Cameron Road. The honeymoon will be spent in Saigon, where the bride's father is engaged in business.

CHEAP BRANDY FOR SALE

Student Faces Serious Charge

Chan Chun Fung, a 22-year-old student was brought again before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on Saturday faced with the charge of unlawful possession of October 20. He was said to have four bottles of adulterated liquor to which a false trade mark had been applied.

Asked to answer the charge, defendant stated he did not know what the contents were as the bottles were given to him by a friend.

Mr. J. P. Lambert, Manager of Messrs. Rindon and Co., stated in the witness box that on Saturday last defendant went to his address in Kennedy Road and offered to sell him some brandy. As his house boy was aware that he would not be interested in it, he sent him away. However witness had him recalled and questioned defendant through the houseboy what kind of brandy he had for sale and was told that he had several brands. Hennessy Brandy was mentioned and the price given was $3.50 per bottle.

Finally the price of $3 per bottle was agreed upon as defendant said that the goods were obtained from a ship and duty had not been paid on it. Witness then asked for one bottle and when this was procured witness opened it and found that it was not brandy at all by the smell. Defendant was then detained and taken to the Police station.

The contents of the bottle were spirit which had been coloured with caramel, while essence of Vanilla had been added to give the proper smell. After this evidence His Worship adjourned the case till to-morrow.

KOWLOON FETE A SUCCESS

Catholic Society Gets Good Support

The Bazaar organised by the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, which was held yesterday afternoon at Chatham Road, Kowloon, was highly successful judging from the amount of people that attended.

There were the usual galaxy of stalls, all doing their share of business during the afternoon. It was noticeable that the Hot Dog and Tea Stall was very well patronized. Mr. J. Noronha and his staff of workers had a very busy time of it!

The following were the stalls and their organisers:

Souvenir Stall: Run by the St. Mary's Ladies' Association, Kowloon Tong. The following ladies were in charge: Mrs. A. Alves, Mrs. E. d'Aquino, Miss M. Roza-Pereira, Mrs. J. Xavier, Mrs. J. Sousa, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. A. Silva and Mrs. J. Souza.

Little Flower Stall, comprised of the following departments:—Surprise Cake, in charge of Miss C. Gonsalves; Doll Stall, Miss A. Cordeiro; Dice Stall, Miss C. Xavier; Dollar Stall, Miss D. Lopes, Sale Stall, Miss E. Silva; Card Stall, Miss R. Xavier; Surprise Packet, Miss W. Silva.

St. Joan's Arc C.Y.L.A. Stall, run by the Chinese Catholic Young Ladies Society, Hong Kong, consisted of the following departments:—Fishing Game, in charge of Miss E. Ghov; Lighting Candles, Misses D. Leung and Y. Yin; Hitting Belles, Miss M. Chan; American Lottery, Miss J. Wong; Sale of Fancy Articles, Miss May Chan.

Ten Cents Stall run by Mr. J. Ribeiro and helpers.

Children of Mary Stall, Miss F. Dixon and helpers.

Special Stall, Mrs. Triggs and helpers.

St. Teresa's C.Y.M. Society Stall, in charge of Messrs. Chan Yip Yu, R. Lim, Peter Y. T. Lo and Francis Lo.

Hot Dog and Tea Stall, organised by Mr. J. Noronha and helpers.

C. Y. W. Society Stall, run by the St. Mary's Chinese Catholic Young Ladies Association.

Photo Stall, run by the members of the Photographic Society of Wah Yan College, under the direction of Mr. P. Dragon.

DUCHESS OF ATHOLL

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 15.

The Duchess of Atholl M.P. for Kinross and West Perthshire, addressing a meeting of her constituents at Doune yesterday, made reference to her attitude to the new Indian Constitution.

It was very unwise, she said, to hand over powers which would make it very much more difficult to prevent conflicts and riots between Hindus and Mohammedans, and which would cause us to keep a much larger number of Regular troops in that country than in the past.

During the last war India was so quiet that we were able to withdraw almost all the Regular troops and garrison it with Territorials, but it was now said that that could not be done under the new Act. Therefore she was afraid that the India Act definitely increased our insecurity in Europe.

Speaking on the subject of housing, the Duchess said she did not consider it a practical policy to fix the exact number of persons who were to be allowed to sleep in small houses in the country. In a two-room house only three persons were to be allowed. She tried, but failed to get ploughmen excluded from the Act. She wanted to draw public attention to the way the Act would prejudice ploughmen with families in the finding of employment. The result would be a demand for unmarried ploughmen and the throwing of married ploughmen into the unemployment.

In conclusion, the Duchess claimed freedom of action in her Parliamentary work in view of legislation which might call for a compromise greater than she felt was consistent with the vital interests of her constituency.

The Duchess also addressed her constituents at Callender and Thornhill yesterday. Speaking of the Milk Marketing Scheme, she gave evidence illustrative of the hardships consequent upon the scheme and showing that many small producers had been pushed out of business.

BAZAAR FOR DESERVING CAUSES

Anglican Church Fete A Success

The Kowloon Tong Anglican Church Garden Fete which was held Saturday afternoon proved a success in every way and the many people who had turned out to support the fete went away satisfied.

Everything was of view and both young and old had something in which to delight themselves.

There was a very large and representative gathering present.

LADY POLLOCK'S SPEECH

The Bishop welcomed Lady Pollock, who, in opening the Fete, said:

"It gives me very much pleasure to have been asked to open this Garden Fete to-day. Being at home last year I missed the first Fete, so you must forgive me if I go over a little of the old ground again."

"As a member of the Cathedral Council I had the privilege of hearing the very first suggestions made of the need, in the future, of a church in Kowloon Tong."

"The Bishop and Mr. Halward were very confident that such a need must come, and after much discussion it was decided that at least it would be wise to ask the Government for a site, and so stake a claim against the time when the need should arise."

"The Government offered us various sites. A Kowloon Tong Church Committee was formed. I was not on that Committee, but somehow I always managed to be there when they were inspecting those sites. I think it was because I was so intensely interested that I could not keep away, although at the time I think we felt that it might be long before a church could materialise. However, a site was chosen, and the Bishop and Mr. Halward continued to dream and visualise the church-to-be."

BY DIRECT GUIDANCE
"I always feel we came to this Church House by direct guidance."

LOCAL BRICK WORKS

Reopening Of Plant

The South China Bricks and Tiles Manufacturing Company entertained a large number of local residents on Saturday on the occasion of the reopening of their plant.

The South China Brick and Tile Factory is newly organised, having taken over the entire plant and properties of the South China Brickworks Ltd., now in liquidation. It is situated at San Hui, Castle Peak, New Territories.

The buildings of the plant consist of power room, fabrication room, drying chambers, Behr's kilns, offices, stores, coal bunkers and other subsidiary buildings, occupying about 90,000 sq. feet of ground.

The machines are all electrical, driven, and are connected to the electric mains of the China Light & Power Co. Ltd.

THE WORKS
The quarry and pits contain a variety of strata of very fine clay. In fact, experts consider the deposits there to be the finest in the Colony.

The original designing of the works, very little of which has since been altered, was done by the Credit Foncier D'Extreme Orient, Mr. G. van Wyck being then in charge.

There are 36 kilns occupying a length of about 350 ft., and 60 drying chambers, with a maximum capacity of 100,000 bricks per day.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul acknowledges with grateful appreciation and thanks the receipt of the following donations and gifts to the Fete on November 3:—

Wah Yan College, Boys, $120.40
Mr. W. B. Finnigan, $20.00
Ladies' Pious Union, Kowloon $31.80

Messrs. Matsumura and Sahara

nothing could have been found more suitable for our purpose, and the fact that it had never been occupied was an added charm.

"Owing to a band of loyal and faithful workers who have thrown themselves heart and soul into this service for God, this Church House to-day is in every respect a miniature church with all a church's various activities—its regular services, its Sunday School, its Guild of Martha and Mary, its Men's Fellowship, a V.D.M.A. Group, a Boy Club Pack, its various meetings and debates, and an excellent magazine of its own."

WONDERFUL PROGRESS

"The progress made in the last two years has been simply wonderful, and has proved beyond a doubt the need for a real church. And that is why this Fete to-day is so important. Until now the new church has been more or less a castle in the air—but the time has come to put foundations under that castle and to realise that our dreams and visions of a church in Kowloon Tong are coming true."

"There is much to be done. We must all help—don't be deterred by thinking that the little you can afford to spend could not help to build a church."

"Every little helps. Small beginnings often have great endings. Think of the acorn. An acorn is not much to look at—pretty, yes, small, and very dainty, but in the heart of that acorn there is a wonderful secret, and in the fullness of time that small acorn becomes a mighty, towering oak."

"So also, I think the prayer for an Anglican church in Kowloon Tong contained in itself, its own fulfilment."

"I have much pleasure in declaring the Fete open, and I wish it great success."

Lady Pollock was then presented with a lavender satchel and a basket of flowers by members of the Sunday School and the Wolf Cubs, after which she was conducted on an inspection of the stalls and side shows.

EUROPEAN FINED

Dangerous Goods On Vessel

A fine of $50 was imposed on Capt. Antonini by Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday when he was convicted on a charge of a breach of the Dangerous Goods Ordinance. On another charge he was cautioned.

It was stated that Capt. Antonini failed to make a report to the Harbour Authorities when he arrived in port on August 28 last with 800 casks of Carbolite of Calcium on board and (2), having dangerous goods on his vessel, he failed to anchor at one of the Dangerous Goods Anchorages.

In pleading guilty to both summonses, Capt. Antonini said that he was not conversant with the regulations and added that the usual procedure, whenever he had any dangerous goods on board, was for the Shanghai office to advise the Hong Kong branch by cable and the latter would attend to all necessary details.

Comdr. Newell then told the Court that as the defendant had pleaded guilty, he would like to withdraw the second charge, but Mr. Wynne-Jones replied that he could not allow that as the defendant had been charged and had admitted the charges. Addressing Capt. Antonini, the Magistrate said that they could not prosecute against the agents and so he (the master) must be held responsible.

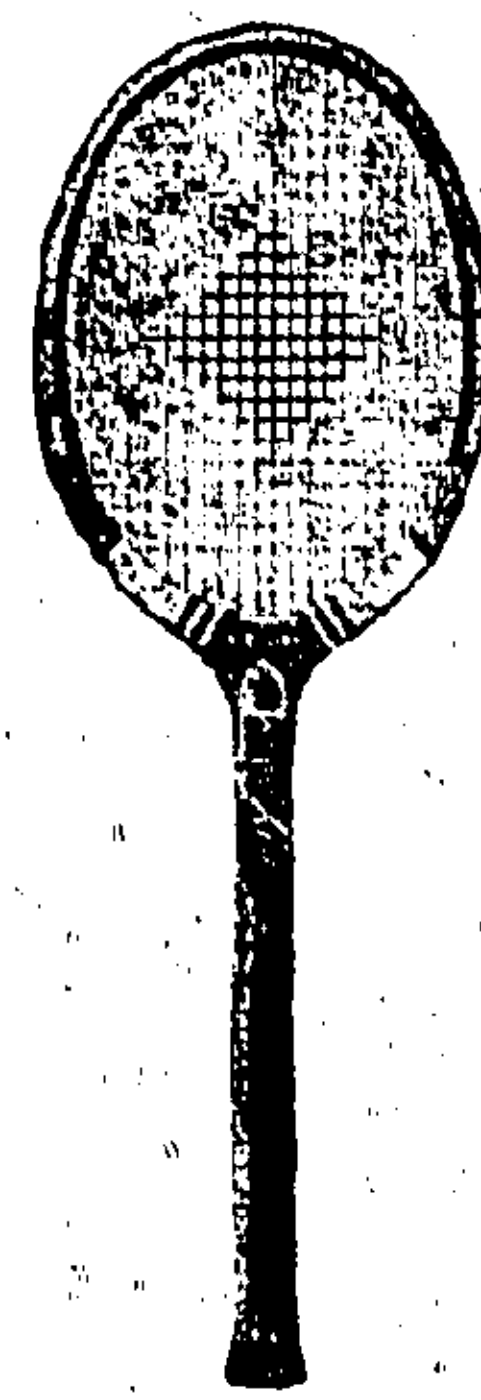

Upon Comdr. Newell asking for a nominal fine, the Magistrate fined defendant $50 on the first count and cautioned him on the second charge.

The Proven STOMACH REMEDY for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of "Bisurated" Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of "Bisurated" Magnesia in a little water produced complete relief in cases where numerous other remedies had failed entirely.

Its Action Explained—

"Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the tortured stomach it begins to sweeten the sour, fermenting undigested food. The contents of the stomach become as bland and soothing as milk to the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and promptly disappears. By following up the treatment after each meal, your harassed stomach will soon lose its tenderness and grow strong, until you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal, without fear of wind and pain."

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

H.C. — M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

"ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:"

"'Bisurated' Magnesia gives excellent results and is the ideal remedy for stomach pains and acidity. It is particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Gastritis, Stomach Pains, Flatulence, and even Stomach Ulcers."

H.L. — Faculty of Medicine, Paris.

THE Address of the above Society will, as from the 1st November 1985, be at Bank of East Asia Building, Eighth floor, 10, Des Voeux Road Central, Victoria. [392]

General Kondylis to-day summoned a conference of editors and told them that the uncertainty of the late Government had exhausted the army's patience and confidence. Consequently the army chiefs had invited him to form a Government, whose task was purely patriotic—to maintain order and ensure a free plebiscite, whereafter it would resign, resuming office if the King invited it and approved the programme which it had

LEAGUE FIXES DATE FOR SANCTIONS OPERATION

Final Addresses By Delegates

FRENCH FRIENDSHIP WITH ITALY

Peace Efforts Fruitless

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press").

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1891. Received, November 3, 4:30 a.m.)

Geneva, November 2. The atmosphere was tense with excitement when punctually at 4 o'clock the Sanctions Commission of fifty three League of Nations states met to record the most momentous decision the League has ever been called upon to make.

Although everything that took place was "cut and dried" by the almost interminable negotiations of the last few weeks, everyone was on tip-toe with expectation partly because of the formal fixture of November 18 as the day on which sanctions will come into force, which represents a great historical event, and partly because of the pronouncements thereon to be made by Mr. Laval and Sir Samuel Hoare.

President Varoncelos opened the session and referred to the objects of the negotiations which he said was to arrive at a just and honourable peace. Thereupon the separate sanctions proposals were passed one after the other without any debate. Thus on November 18 the economical and financial measures and an embargo on exports from Italy with restrictions of certain raw materials into Italy will come into force.

Premier Laval then addressed the assembly after the conclusion of the business, stating that he wished to take this opportunity to recall that France had loyally fulfilled its obligations under the Covenant and his Government in collaboration with the other States would execute faithfully the decisions arrived at to-day.

"But," continued M. Laval, "we have another duty to fulfil, namely to find a peaceful solution of the present conflict as quickly as possible. The French and British Governments are in agreement that collaboration must cover this field also. This obligation is particularly imperative for France because of a treaty of friendship with Italy signed on January 7 last year.

TO CONTINUE EFFORT

"France will continue with special eagerness to exploit all the possibilities that might serve as a basis for negotiations. That was the reason why we had taken the initiative to begin the discussions some time ago without ever entertaining the idea that a final conclusion should be reached outside the League of Nations. Only within its scope could the proposals be examined and decisions reached."

M. Laval concluded by again emphasising that the League would know how to discharge its supreme and noble duty, namely the maintenance of peace.

NO OTHER WAY

Sir Samuel Hoare, the British Foreign Minister, then rose to give his eagerly awaited utterance. He spoke without any trace of rhetoric and in quite a dispassionate tone.

All efforts to reach a basis for discussion with Italy, he said, had proved fruitless. He left no possibility of mistaking that all the efforts made so far have resulted in a fiasco.

The British Foreign Minister spoke of the momentous character of the sanctions and their application in dealings among nations. He again emphasised the regret felt that this course of action has been forced upon the League. But it was the conviction of all those determined in maintaining the principles of the League Covenant and collective security that there was no other way.

If the League wished to retain its influence, action to shorten the duration of the war was unavoidable and one hoped and believed that this would be achieved.

FURTHER LOSSES BY LABOUR

London, Nov. 3. Labour suffered a net loss of 27 seats in the Municipal elections in 36 towns, cities and boroughs. Conservatives gained 56 seats and lost 22. Liberals gained 12 and lost 14. Labour gained 39 and lost 68.

Mr. Herbert Morrison remarked that the result was unexpected. This he did not think is any indication of what will happen at the General Election. On the other hand Mr. Ramsay MacDonald

CANADA'S SURPRISE

Geneva, Nov. 2. That Italy's territorial operations are more serious than the Abyssinian attack and her lines of communication are the latest developments in the sanctions situation.

Canada, supported strongly by the British, French and South African delegates sprang a surprise on the Committee of Eighteen by proposing that exports to Italy and Italian possessions of oil and its derivatives, coal, cast iron and steel should be forbidden.

Italy is neither a producer of coal necessary for running her transports and supply ships nor petrol essential for her tanks and planes engaged in military activities.

The Committee decided to reserve the proposal to a technical committee, but as the attitude of non-member states is one of the main factors and such a complex issue, no decision in the matter is likely before the middle of December.

Reuter.

ITALY NOT PERTURBED

Rome, Nov. 2. Sanctions are being received calmly in Italy which has long been making preparations for storing reserves and immense quantities of goods restricted by sanctions have been accumulated in the last two weeks.

On the other hand motorists fear the restriction of supplies of petrol, while construction of reinforced concrete buildings has ceased owing to difficulty in obtaining metals.

The "Tribuna" calls on the Italians to apply open sanctions against England by not taking her goods, particularly coal.

Reuter.

COUNTER-MEASURES

Rome, Nov. 2. Further measures designed to counteract the effect of the sanctions, were just announced here as for instance from November 6, the Italian State railways are reducing the number of passenger trains running to 47.

As a measure to economise on electric light, offices and shops will open earlier in the mornings and close earlier in the evening.

The price on benzine having risen considerably, taxicabs have increased their fares accordingly.

IN NEED OF MONEY

Ethiopia's Appeal To League

Geneva, Nov. 2. Ethiopia has appealed to the League for financial assistance.

In a note published to-night it reminds the League that in 1930 it approved a draft convention for financial assistance in case of a threat of war and says that when Italy's act of aggression was committed the Ethiopians had no army and practically no war materials.

The note further says that replying on the guaranteed security embodied in the covenant, the Ethiopian Government created neither arsenal nor arms and munition factories, while the recent lifting of the embargo on export of arms to Ethiopia after the aggression occurred has been only of slight assistance.

Ethiopia therefore begs assistance in order to defend her peaceful existence against a State whose attitude menaces world peace.

MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

Wounded Chinese Minister

Nanking, Nov. 3. A bulletin issued at 10 a.m. reports Mr. Wang Ching-wei's condition as good. "His urine is free from sugar. The swelling around his left eye has subsided considerably so he can now open both eyes spontaneously."

The question who is to act for Mr. Wang has not yet been discussed and will probably have to wait for a few days to see how the patient is progressing. For the time being Dr. H. H. Kung is acting President of the Executive Yuan. Mr. Hsu Mo has taken charge of the duties of the Foreign Office.

An unconfirmed sensational rumour persists that the assailant was shot by one of his own accomplices and not by Mr. Wang Ching-wei's bodyguard, in order to close the assailant's mouth and make it very difficult for the authorities to trace the principals of the plot.

PRINCIPALS IN PLOT

It is now definitely established that Hu Yun-ching and Ho Pak-wan are the principals in the plot and every effort is being made to arrest them.

Outside the principal assailant, Sung Feng-min, who has since succumbed to his wounds, twenty suspects have been arrested and these were subjected to a severe grilling at Police Headquarters after which five were released and seven freed on bail, proving that they had no connection whatsoever with the attack. Eight are still held for further examination.

MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY

Telegrams expressing sympathy with Mr. Wang Ching-wei continue to be received at the Foreign Office. A telegram from Sir Alexander Cadogan reads: "I hasten to express to Your Excellency my horror at the dastardly attempt on your life and my devout hope that you will make a speedy recovery."

Mr. Hirota, the Japanese Foreign Minister, and Mr. Cordell Hull, U. S. Secretary of State, have conveyed their sympathies through diplomatic channels.

VANGUARDS OF ARMIES PUSH FORWARD

Advance From Different Directions

Rome, November 2.

As a result of the past week's activities on the various war fronts, the Italians in the north appear to be still a considerable distance from Makale and there has not been any general advance, though the vanguards of all three army corps have pushed forward.

The vanguards of the First Corps on the left under General Santini reached the Malucca wells less than half way from Adigrat to Makale. The Native Corps in the centre reached Hausien market town in fertile country which is important from both political and military viewpoints, while the Second Corps on the right sent their advance guards along the main caravan route from Adowa to Makale which have probably reached Ueri River.

General de Bono plans to advance shortly to a line extending from Danakil desert on the left to roughly along the Cheve River to the south of Makale, then along the Takkaze River until a point where it becomes the frontier of Eritrea.

The line when finally secured will include Makale and constitute a gigantic bulge into Abyssinian territory. It will probably take two months to consolidate.

General Graziani's strategy in the south is now believed to be to make the main advance across open desert from Walwal to Jijiga with subsidiary columns moving up on the three rivers, Fafan, Webbe and Shibell and Juba, to protect the left flank. The right is being protected by British Somaliland.

General Graziani is probably aiming at either converging towards Gorahai and two sides or surrounding the town, as Gorahai is strongly fortified and has been ordered by the Negus to resist to the last.

The third Italian army operating from Assab is still reported to be in the Moussa Ali region and it is not believed to have made any advance.

ARGUMENT OVER PROTECTION FOR COLONIES INVESTORS

Mr. Churchill And Major Attlee

London, Nov. 2. The Crown Colonies are not for sale, exclaimed Mr. Winston Churchill in his election speech at his constituency in Essex.

Mr. Churchill denounced the proposal of certain Labour members that Britain should hand over her Colonies to the League.

Major Attlee, the Labour Leader, in a rejoinder to the speech of Mr. Churchill in which he taunted the Labourites wanting to hand over the Crown Colonies to the League, complained that Mr. Churchill has not taken the trouble to understand the Labourite proposal.

The Labour leader said that the proposal is that the Crown Colonies should be held by us, but we report to the League under mandate. He opined there would be no objection to that course.

FRENCH BAKERS GO ON STRIKE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, Nov. 2. As bakers' apprentices went on strike on Thursday at Soissons, a town not far from Paris, demanding higher wages, the master bakers appealed to the Prefect of Police for help to keep the city supplied with bread. The Prefect called in the military, so that the people of Soissons enjoyed the unique privilege of eating bread baked by the distinguished 67th Infantry Regiment.

The public appreciated the joke on the malcontents, whose strike promptly collapsed.

CURRENCY SITUATION IN CHINA

Important Measures By Government

Shanghai, Nov. 3. The Chinese Government tonight issued an announcement on the currency situation reading as follows: The Chinese Government order to conserve currency reserves in the country and effect lasting measures for currency and banking reform is decreed effective tomorrow, November 4.

Firstly banknotes issued by the three Government Banks, namely Central Bank of China, Bank of China and Bank of Communications, shall be full legal tender and banknote reserves of the three banks shall be placed under unified control. Notes of all other issuing banks will continue in circulation, but will be gradually withdrawn and replaced by notes of the Central Bank. No new notes to be issued by these banks and all their unused notes as well as banknote reserves are to be deposited with the Central Bank.

Secondly all debts expressed in terms of silver shall be discharged by payment of legal tender notes of nominal amount due. Thirdly, all holders of silver are required to exchange their silver for legal tender notes.

Fourthly, the exchange value of the Chinese dollar will be kept stable at the present level and for this purpose the Government Banks will buy and sell foreign exchange in unlimited quantities.

BANK REORGANISED

The Government-owned Central Bank is to be reorganised as the Central Reserve Bank of China and will be owned principally by banks of the general public, thus becoming an independent institution, devoting itself chiefly to maintaining the stability of the nation's currency. The Central Reserve Bank will hold reserves of the Banking System Act as depository of all public funds and will provide centralised re-discount facilities for other banks, but will not undertake general commercial business. After a period of two years it will enjoy the sole right to note issue.

Measures which are prepared for strengthening the commercial banking system giving increased liquidity under sound conditions to commercial banks include the creation of a special institution to deal exclusively with mortgage business.

Plans have been completed whereby the national budget will be balanced within eighteen months.

The Government is determined to avoid inflation and will take energetic measures to deal with speculation attempts to bring about unwarranted increases in prices.

THE CHANGING FACE OF LONDON

London, Oct. 10. Visitors to London from Overseas find vast changes nowadays due to rebuilding schemes and frequently well remembered landmarks are found to have disappeared or entirely changed their character.

Such a transformation has taken place at 16, Great George Street, a building looking on to Parliament Square and Westminster Abbey. For years this has been occupied as offices and must be well known to many Overseas engineers as the London home of Greenwood & Bailey Ltd., the Leeds engineering firm, who have been there since 1888. Now, however, the whole building has been acquired by the Middlesex County Council for the enlargement of the County Hall, and the Leeds concern has, therefore, taken new and more commodious offices at York House, Lower Regent Street.

"NIGHT STAR" CAUSES SURPRISE IN SATURDAY'S RACING

Daily Double Pool Not Won

MANY UPSETS

No punters were successful in backing the second leg of the Daily Double at the Eleventh Extra Race Meeting of the Hong Kong Jockey Club held on Saturday with the result that the pool of $3,656.40 was carried forward to the next Extra Race Meeting.

The Meeting was favoured with ideal sunny weather and attendance compared to previous meeting was good. The many ladies present with their pretty frocks added much to the Meet.

There were several upsets in the course of the afternoon's sports, the chief of which was Night Star's win in the Nullah Handicap in the first leg of the Daily Double. Mr. Ralph ably rode the winner to return the highest dividend of the day to 36 backers with $211.60 each.

On the whole dividends were higher than it used to be for the last two meetings. Cash Sweep figures too went up.

Messrs. N. Deitz and were the most successful jockeys of the day, returning two firsts and a second closely followed by the Champion Jockey, Mr. Leo Frost, who secured two firsts and two thirds.

His Excellency, the Officer Administering the Government, Sir Thomas Southorn was an interested spectator.

In the last race of the day Gold Coin was badly kicked by Wadebridge on the thigh.

SURREY HANDICAP

Bright, sunny weather favoured the Surrey Handicap when five starters went to the mile post. Attendance was good compared to the last two meetings.

Hetman led right from the beginning. Soldier of Germany and King's Bounty alternately changed places for second and third places respectively. Hetman kept up the same good pace and after the 220 yards post was arrived at, King's Bounty dropped back and allowed Soldier of Germany to take second place. Ribble ably ridden by Mr. Davis came in third.

SUFFOLK HANDICAP—"D" CLASS

The attendance had swelled by the time the 14 ponies went out for the six furlongs in the "D" Class of Suffolk Handicap. Double Chance was in front followed in the rear by Tin Ho and Young Chap. Boxing Eye and Philanderer came up to the second and third positions respectively. Double Chance was still leading at the last quarter. Philanderer came up strongly with Young Chap in the rear.

At the stretch Double Chance, Philanderer, Young Chap, Glad Eyes and Belmont Star who had shot up by now were fighting neck to neck. It was a glorious finish with each horse straining its utmost. Mr. Deitz and Mr. Black came out to the front about 50 yards from the winning post and dead heated for first place after an exciting finish. Glad Eyes was third being a short head behind.

HONG KONG GRIFFINS CUP

Harvest View led most of the way until she was overtaken by High Honour at the last quarter, who up to now held second place with Pontiac Boy in the third position. These positions were maintained until High Honour came up at the last quarter. On the stretch Pontiac Boy came up strongly and passed the leaders. Harvest View maintained its second position and Rose Queen which had come up from the rear (and she was the favourite) displaced High Honour for third place.

KENT HANDICAP (1ST SECTION) "C" CLASS

Victoria Hall was in the lead and after the first once round High Speed took the position followed by Pacific Hall. At the Football Stand Victoria Hall came out to the front with High Speed and Bistre in the rear. Bistre coming up to the second position at Black Rock. At the last quarter Soldier of China ably ridden by Mr. Deitz came out to the front and Jungle Jim and Bistre were fighting neck to neck. Soldier winning from Bistre by a neck, the same distance separating the second and third.

NULLAH HANDICAP—"A" CLASS

Eight starters entered for the first leg of the Daily Double. Shooting Star led right up to the last furlong with Night Star and Australian Boy in the rear. These positions were maintained right up to the stretch when Night Star and Australian Boy challenged Shooting Star. It was a very close finish with Night Star just nosing Australian Boy for first place by a length and a short head separated Australian Boy from Shooting Star. Night Star rewarded its 36 backers with $211.60 each.

NORFOLK HANDICAP—"D" CLASS

The Novices' Race attracted no less than 14 ponies. The ponies were bunched together at the start and when the Black Rock was reached Tillcum was in the lead with Solar Star and Partnership following behind. On the stretch Wembley Stag raced strongly to come in first with Tillcum second and Plain View third.

SUSSEX HANDICAP

The second leg of the Daily Double a half mile event had 10 starters. It was indeed a sprinting event right from the word "go." Up the hill past Black Rock with Blacksmith leading followed by Locksley Hall. Blacksmith led until the last quarter when Deemster and Beginner's Luck came up strongly. Beginner's Luck winning by a head, the same distance separated Blacksmith from the Deemster.

KENT HANDICAP (2nd Section) "C" CLASS

The last race on the programme had 13 starters. Twenty Grand was restless and somewhat held up the start. Cavalcade led until the Football Stand when she was displaced by Flybynight. At the half mile post Great Hall took the lead. On the stretch Racing Boy came up strongly challenged by Great Hall and Pride of Tsingtao. Racing Boy eventually won by a neck. Half a length separated Great Hall from Pride of Singtao.

HOCKEY

Saturday's Matches

The "Y" Ladies raised a surprise on Saturday when they defeated the Hong Kong Ladies, the holders of the Caer Clark Cup, in a fast game by two goals to one.

The game was very even in the first-half, and neither goal was seriously threatened. Early in the second half, however, Miss S. Dalziel, scored for the "Y", but soon after Miss Helbling took advantage of a mishit by Miss McCaw to equalise for the Hong Kong team.

Miss S. Dalziel scored the "Y's" winning goal after a neat bout of passing.

GOALS SHARED

Four goals were shared between the Recreio Ladies and the C.B.A. Ladies in a very even Hockey game played on Saturday afternoon at the Police Training ground.

Several noticeable improvements were noticed among the two teams particularly in the matter of stick work and positionings. Mrs. Y. Pinna played a very reliable and polished game to net both goals while Miss O. Peters and Miss G. Lakeman replied for the C.B.A.

ST. ANDREW'S WIN

St. Andrew's Ladies Hockey team was in a scoring mood on Saturday when they trounced the Hong Kong Ladies second string to the tune of seven goals to two. The game was played on the Sookun-poo ground.

The Hong Kong Ladies were playing minus a goalkeeper, but kept the invaders out in the first half with one exception, when Miss P. Gittins scored.

In the second half, the Saints ran riot and scored another six goals through Miss P. Gittins (3), Miss I. Gittins (2) and Miss F. Wong, while Mrs. Waddell and Miss H. Hance replied for the losers.

Miss N. Cooper gave a very promising display in the pivotal position for the H. K. Ladies, while Miss L. Jorge and Miss P. Gittins shone for the winners.

LOCAL FOOTBALL SURPRISES

Lee Wai Tong In Scoring Mood

The many soccer enthusiasts who attended the First Division matches over the week end certainly had their money's worth, and although there were many upsets in Saturday's games, the Soccer meted out was generally of a high standard. Sunday's matches were by far the best encounters, and as was expected, one of the largest crowds turned out to witness the Football Classic between the South China "A" and the Navy. It was a glorious battle, and although the Chinese were able to score 5 times to the Sailors' single reply, the score does not by any means indicate that the game was one sided. The huge crowd was greatly delighted to see Lee Wai Tong, China's Football idol, once again on the local field, and he lived up to his reputation by scoring three of the six goals.

Of Saturday's games, the Saints were certainly surprised when they had to admit defeat at the hands of the Royal Artillery, Stonecutters. The Police team, who are considered close rivals to the South China "A" were also surprised by Kowloon who held them to a draw of 2 goals all.

EAST LANCES v. C.A.A.

In a fast and interesting encounter The East Lances ran out winners against the China Athletic by a solitary goal scored late in the second half after both sides had missed glorious chances in front of goal. It was a matter of defence being on top throughout the game and both sets came out of the game with flying colours.

Both keepers had about the same amount of work to do and Harmsworth was called upon to clear on more occasions than his opposite number, Siu Tin Ning, who by his bad judgment of a long shot by Lawton allowed the ball to go past him towards the end of the game.

Steele and Mak So were the better of the four backs; Mak So in particular saved many an awkward situation by his first time clearance.

The game started off with the soldiers doing most of the attacking. For the next fifteen minutes the ball was continually being kept in the Chinese territory.

Sandford had a glorious chance of opening the score when he dabbled in front of goal and was robbed off the ball by Mak So.

Play then evened up more considerably. The Chinese attacked on the left flank but Yeung Kan Po was unable to go through when well placed.

The interval arrived with the score sheet blank.

PENALTY MISSED

After the lemon the Chinese were more in the limelight than the soldiers. Their attacks were often swift and deadly to the point, but Lawton and Co. were equal to the occasion and repulsed their every movement. In a breakaway by the Chinese, North handled in the area and Tam Kwong Sum sent the resultant spot kick wide.

Play was more in favour of the Chinese up to now and about seven minutes from the end Lawton took a close-ranged shot at the Chinese goal; the drop shot caught Siu Tin Ning unexpectedly and the Chinese goal-keeper allowed it to go past his head to put the soldiers ahead.

The final whistle found the Chinese still attacking. The game was played at a very fast pace. Both teams played football of a high standard. On the whole a draw would have been a fair reflection of the play.

NAVY TROUNCED

In one of the best and cleanest soccer games seen for a long time South China "A" the holders of the Senior League beat the Navy at Causeway Bay yesterday afternoon by six goals to one.

The score is not quite a criterion of the play as the Navy lads played as well as ever but the forwards lacked cohesion and finish, which was not wanting in the Chinese.

The stands were packed to over crowding. Lee Wai Tong once more proved himself a versatile player when he led his forwards to a nicely. He was responsible for three of the six goals and was instrumental in helping the others to bag theirs.

The biggest surprise of Saturday's football was the defeat of St. Joseph's team by the R.A. (Stonecutters) by 3 goals to 2 at the Military ground Happy Valley.

The game did not produce football of a high standard, the Gunners had the better of the exchanges, and the bustling tactics which they adopted proved very successful against the short passing movements of the Saints. The Saints were the first to take the lead when V. Costa sent in a high ball which entered the corner of the net much to the surprise of Hall. The Saints continued to attack but Lewis and Price worked very hard to keep them away.

After the interval the Saints started with the short passing movement but they were unsuccessful against the bustling methods of the Gunners.

GUNNERS EQUALISE

A perfect centre from Gardiner gave Forbes possession of the ball which he transferred to Barracough to head the equaliser.

Soon afterwards the Gunners took the lead through Barracough who beat Marques with a hard drive. Taking advantage of the lead the Gunners went on to score again through Barracough who completed his hat-trick when he received a pass from Hunt and beat Marques again from about 20 yards out.

At this stage Costa changed places with Fernandes at outside-left, and the Saints went all out to reduce the lead. The goal-keeping of Hall was magnificent—three times he threw himself full length to save his goal.

Singh scored the Saints' second goal from a pass by Omar when he beat Hall from 10 yards.

LINCS v. CLUB

Very mediocre football was played by both sides yesterday at Sookunpo, where the Club defeated the Lincolns in their First Division soccer encounter by the odd goal in three.

The Club's two wing men, Bickford and Fowler played an excellent game; while E. Strange, playing at inside-left, after his long absence, played brilliantly in spasms, but failed to add the finishing touches to clever tackling. S. Strange, again a tower of strength in the Club's defence, effectively cleared many dangerous shots by Higgins, the soldiers' pivot.

The Club were the first to attack and after 10 minutes Fowler scored from a splendid pass by E. Strange.

Shortly afterwards Higgins equalised for the Lincolns with an unstoppable shot from close range following a perfect pass by Malpas.

THE SECOND HALF

In the second half the Club attacked immediately, and Fowler went close with a header after a brief melee in the goalmouth, the ball being well held and cleared by Read. However, a few minutes later, Fowler was again presented with an opportunity in the shape of a glorious pass by Bickford and this time he netted with a powerful drive.

RECREIO v. R.A. LYEMUN

Showing very good form, the Club d. Recreio defeated the R.A. Lyemun easily on Saturday by 4 goals to 2 in a First Division match at King's Park.

In the first moment of the game the Recreio upset the Artillery by breaking through from the kick-off and rushing towards the Artillery goal with a lightning-like move. B. Gosano smashed the ball towards goal, but it struck the upright, only to allow Alves to net from the bound. Within three minutes the Recreio had added their second. This time Bertie Gosano was immediately in front of goal, awaiting his chance, and Alves sent across a beautiful pass, Bertie heading the ball into the net.

The Artillery opened up their account with a neat goal from Edmunds during a melee.

The Recreio soon returned to the Artillery area and within seven minutes had gained two more goals through B. Gosano who thus completed his hat-trick.

Then the referee awarded a penalty kick to the Gunners for alleged dangerous play by Beltrao in the danger area and Recreio netted from the "spot."

KOWLOON GOLF

Cogan Cup Competition

The following are the results of the Cogan Cup Competition played on October 28 and 29:—
J. D. Thomson, 76-9=67, Winner.
Other scores were:—
E. O. Murphy, 80-13=67.
Although he had the same score as winner, J. D. Thomson wins as he returned the best second nine holes.

J. G. Charlton, 84-14=68
A. Anderson, 77-9=68
T. D. Paton, 79-9=70

INTERPORT CRICKET

The last two places in the Hong Kong Interport Cricket XI, have been filled, according to an announcement made following the Trial that took place at K.C.C. yesterday.

T. E. Pearce and A. R. Minu have been selected, with I. McInnes as the twelfth man.

THE FIFTH GOAL

In the second half the Recreio scored their fifth goal, as the result of a brilliant piece of work by Alves, who netted from a first-time shot from the left wing. A penalty was then given against the Gunners for dangerous play, but Beltrao missed!

KOWLOON SURPRISES

Kowloon sprang a surprise on Saturday when they held the present First Division League leaders, the Police, to a draw of 2 goals all after being down a goal at the interval.

During the opening stage of the game Blackourn received a nasty cut over the eye and had to leave the field for about five minutes, returning with one eye covered in plaster. Despite this handicap, he played a sterling game in the defence, but the honours must go to Chris Fife, undoubtedly the best man on the field yesterday. His fearless tackling and sure, clean clearances were wonderful to watch.

The Police came into the limelight some five minutes after the start Brook sending across an open goalmouth for Johnstone, to kick high over the top from about five yards; Johnstone, however, made amends shortly after when he took a high pass from Brooks to hook the ball back into the net beyond Boyer's reach.

The Police took charge of affairs during the second half, but were unable to score. A sudden change to the other end saw D. Knox break away, draw the defence and then pass to Oppenheim who beat McHardy with hard drive to the top right corner.

FUSILLERS UNLUCKY

The Fusillers proved their worth when they met the South China "B" in a First Division encounter at Caroline Hill on Saturday and after outplaying the Chinese team for most of the game were rather unlucky to share the points in a goalless draw.

The soldiers started off rather badly when they failed to take the lead when they were awarded a penalty kick but Harrison failed to convert. Their play however must not be misjudged by ill luck, as they did most of the pressing and kept the Chinese defence very busy. Kenaghan and Talbot were outstanding and indulged in some very pretty moves.

Harrison and Hughes were a dangerous right-wing pair, the latter sending in surprise shots from all angles at the South China goal. Roberts, on the left wing, had few good chances in the first half, but was prominent with many well-placed centres and shots during the second period.

This Fusiller defence, opposing an exceedingly fast and tricky forwardline, quickly settled down to a game of hard and prompt tackling and first-time clearing, and after the first 10 minutes, had so subdued the Chinese that Rowlands scarcely had to deal with a shot worth troubling about. Keating played the game of his life, covering Wheeler's every move, and with Wanklyn and Ellis marking the South China wing-men closely, the Fusiller defence was seen at its best.

Great things were expected of the "B" team, but, although opening strongly, they simply could not devise a method to throw the Fusiller defence off their stride.

MINU SHOWS GOOD BOWLING FORM

Interport Trial Provides No Sensation

DUCKITT BATS WELL

Many Cricket matches were played on Saturday the most important of which was the interport trial played on the Cricket Club ground. There was nothing surprising or sensational in the game with the exception of the poor form shown by many of the selected players. A. R. Minu literally played himself into the team when he captured 6 wickets for 54 runs while Duckitt's 35 not out was also a praiseworthy effort.

In the interport trial, T. E. Pearce's XI pined up 135 runs for seven wickets to defeat A. W. Hayward's XI. The top scorer for the winning team was A. R. Minu, who knocked up 55 runs not out, and Duckitt's 35, not out, was the next best score.

RIFLE CLUB HOLDS PRACTICE SHOOT

Improved Aggregate Scores

NEW MEMBERS ATTEND

In spite of two of the affiliated Rifle Clubs having a friendly match on another range, the attendance at Stonecutters on Saturday afternoon was not only well up to the average, but several new members attended for the first time.

Weather conditions were ideal, although more than one competitor was troubled, in the later stages of the shoot, by the wind veering round from six to four o'clock.

Probably the outstanding feature of the shooting was the way in which those members, using the aperture sight and sling, have shown marked improvement in their aggregate scores, when these are compared with those made a few weeks ago. There is no doubt that this result is solely due to consistent practice, and it is because of this, that the Council urges members to attend as regularly as possible.

It is announced that the "Grimes" Spoon, which is given to the member of the Association, whose scores during the previous month show the greatest improvement, has been awarded for October to Private W. H. Peckham, R.A.S.C.

LEADING SCORES

The following are the leading scores made in a spoon and practice shoot fired on the Naval Range at Stonecutters on Saturday afternoon:—

YESTERDAY'S TRIAL
A. R. Minu further enhanced his chances of getting into the interport cricket side, when he did very well with both bat and ball at the trial game played on the Kowloon Cricket Club yesterday afternoon.

Mr. T. E. Pearce's XI drew in an interesting game with Mr. A. W. Hayward's XI. Minu took 5 wickets for 59 runs, and scored 24 runs in typical fashion when he flogged the bowling about. A. H. Madar, who has already been selected again came off with the bat. Lt. D. E. Holland-Martin, playing in the trials for the first time, caught the eye with a polished 24.

A. W. Hayward's Eleven occupied the crease first, knocking up 149 runs for 9 wickets after which a declaration was made. T. E. Pearce XI replied with 145 runs for 8 wickets, the match thus ending in a draw.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT FOOTBALL MATCH
(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 15.
The ground record at Stamford Bridge was broken to-day on the occasion of the Chelsea v. Arsenal match.

THE ATTENDANCE WAS 62,906
The previous record was 37,959, made in 1911.

To-day the gates were closed before the start and many thousands were left outside the ground.

In a terrific game of brilliant football there was no score at half-time. Five minutes after the restart, Bambrick scored for Chelsea.

Craxton replied for Arsenal.

PROGRAMME NAVAL BUILDING

London, Oct. 10. Twenty-one ships are comprised in the 1935 naval construction programme for which the Admiralty, in accordance with normal practice at this time of the year, have begun to call for tenders.

They consist of three cruisers, one flotilla leader, eight destroyers, three submarines, one submarine depot ship, four sloops, and one surveying ship. Several small vessels are also included in the programme.

It is understood that £10,000,000 is a reliable estimate of the cost of his programme this being based on the belief that the three cruisers will require £5,000,000 and the destroyers £3,000,000, leaving about £2,000,000 for the others.

WORKS FOR THREE YEARS.

The programme is expected to be spread over the best part of three years, a cruiser taking about two and a half years to build.

The work of preparing the contracts is expected to take up all February next, and it is difficult at the moment to estimate the number of workpeople who will be employed under the orders to be placed with firms.

Some of the ships are to be built in the royal dockyards, and the work will probably be in full swing by next spring.

Tsianan, British steamer, 2,100 tons, Captain S. M. Barling, from Shanghai via Amoy, buoy No. B21—B. & S.

Clara Jensen, Danish steamer, 1,145 tons, Captain R. Nielsen, from Port-Campha, Taikoo S. R. Wharf—Jensen & Co.

1ST NOVEMBER.

Haidis, British steamer, 1,144 tons, Captain C. Boyce, from Saigon, buoy No. B6—Wo Fat Sing.
